

SPRING CLEAN

Washing your car in the winter months is an important task in terms of maintaining the value of your car: mud, rain, sleet, snow, and, most of all, salt, can damage your cars finish.

It is especially important to clean your car at the beginning of Spring, after salt has stopped being spread on the roads, and the weather gets warmer.

You should also wax your car at least every six months – this will protect your paint from the corrosive salt and cold temperatures.
